

Economics in Sirohi - The Evental Dimension of Indian Communism and Victory of the Left in Europe and Latin America
By Yanis Varoufakis

I. Economic features of India and Indian Economics

First the set of features - a public sector based on hotels, hotel style housing, and cathedral architecture like plazas and a few marques which then also has Linux and wireless internet based ideas of software linked to also television ideas for the software of Linux.

Another set of features of private sector or private companies and capital in competition with the state fiscal plan which plans the economic structure in a formalism called "the plan of the economy," a general guiding plan - which then develops - Ericsson as telecom company based on Soundconnect phone and games, with AI and even telecom plans based on elite communication only, Reliance which flows finance and makes things happy in virtuals, alongside agrarian business deals and even finally the cinema format of Bollywood but also Indian cinema with Sirohian character, and finally Tata which develops hotels and management finance with the exception in India of GVK which develops a real estate of unique capital in Hyderabad though all cities develop by World Bank rates and development model syntax.

All of this then is Sirohian criticism applied in law and bureaucratic developments each day to keep it fresh and maintained with of course agriculture being planned for a number of shops in Delhi and other cities, which then is another surplus for both private and public sector.

Finally architectural parallax is this complex.

American capital then has to send its forms of capital here for modernization - from Nike shops to Deterior which is Sirohi producing a gaming syntax of life and philosophers' culture and even finally talk show like lectures for soothing tv and radio of psychoanalysis.

II. European Left victory because of Indian formalism developing - its Crisis

Now just the formalism of this type is EU and Europe which then wins majorly because it develops a Spanish capital say or Greek capital, and state capital dynamic which then does nothing more, with failed everything else - just the formal fiscal prudent budget by the state, and even capitalist notions based on language which earns it a high financial amount but all this fails because it is an empty formalism - it doesn't have ideas.

By ideas I mean coinage, culture, or even architectural interpretation which then is now EU's task.

III. Mass politics thrown in by Sirohi

Finally masses protest every day in India - the mass line also helps the poorest conduct literacy campaigns and mass politics.

All of this is Sirohi.

Thank you.
